Dear Parents and Carers,

It is with immense pride that I share this message with you as your children have approached their tests this week with such maturity, focus and hard work. It's a tough week for them, but they have completed it remarkably well and deserve to succeed. I am so proud of them, and each and every member of the teaching and learning support teams are also incredibly proud of them too. From attendance at SAT's Breakfast to sitting their tests so sensibly, they've had a brilliant week.

And for all of your support from home, be it online practicing, revision, homework completion or just emotionally supporting them to be relaxed and ready for this week - I thank you so very much. The tests are there to have to be done, but the good thing is that they are now over and between now and the end of Year 6 and their primary school journey, daily school life can and will be less intense and much more enjoyable (so please keep up the amazing, 100% attendance achieved this week until the end of term).

Once again, thank you.

Enjoy whatever post SAT's celebrations you may have planned.

Regards,
Mr Davey (Executive Headteacher).
